

Kutztown University Establishes Off-Campus Center for Life Long Learning and Professional Development at TEK Park

Breinigsville, Pennsylvania-April, 2007-Kutztown University's Department of Life Long Learning and Professional Development has opened its newest off-campus location at TEK Park.

TEK Park's central location between the Berks and Lehigh communities has proved to be an advantage for the Center, established with the intent of enhancing educational opportunities for the citizens of the Commonwealth through Kutztown University. The Center is committed to meeting the diverse educational needs of the communities it serves, while responding to the unique goals of adult learners and non-traditional students through academic programming and customized professional development.

It serves as a point of educational access not only for non-matriculated students, but also for people wishing to improve themselves through non-credit educational experiences, and for business, education, and social service organizations wishing to meet the in-service training and educational needs to their employees.

A wide variety of evening, credited and MBA courses are currently being offered at TEK Park, as well as an unique mix of non-credit courses, such as a building inspection series, fiber optic training, in conjunction with TEK Park tenant FiberOptic.com, a speed reading program, a children's art education program for grades K-6, a canine training course, an elder learning program, professional development workshops and much more.

For more information about courses available through the Center for Lifelong Learning and Professional, please contact 610.638.1382 or visit: www.kutztown.edu/academics/learning.
